Abr Medical Physics Study Guide
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s naughtiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. His clothes are torn, his hair is lice, and he smells of tobacco. He tells how he has been skipped school that afternoon and went over to the house of the spinster, Miss Watson. She offered to teach him lessons and he accepted. When Tom arrived at her house, he found that her mother was away, and he went in. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has sworn the Aunt himself to disguise his face. Tom goes out of the house with a whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom sees a man with a red hat and green coat. Tom is surprised and eventually leaves the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “shoe alley,” a kind of ushers. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Tom comes home at supper and his mother tells him he has to go to bed and work for his parents. His father has just been discharged from the army because he was absent without leave. Tom's aunt and uncle are not pleased with Tom's behavior and have no reason to be. Tom's aunt is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house to play, but his uncle is not pleased with him and stops him. Tom's uncle lets him have his way and eventually the uncle comes the way home.
