Arbitration Of International Mining Disputes Law And Practice
Oxford International Arbitration Series
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper with a tale of more adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he will not be skipped school that afternoon and next Monday he must work in the garden and do some fielding. Tom is satisfied. Aunt Polly is equally pleased. Tom has sworn the saint himself to disguise his hunger and thirst and unknown to him Aunt Polly is watching. While wondering how he can make Tom work longer and eventually chase the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing, asking for a “white alley,” a kind of status. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Abstract. International mining disputes represent a significant and growing area of disputes over natural resources, yet the unique risks inherent in the mining industry set them apart, both in the nature of the disputes and the approach taken to resolve them. International arbitration has emerged as the mechanism of choice for the resolution of mining disputes.

Given perceived shortcomings of African domestic court systems, international arbitration is the dispute resolution mechanism of choice for mining investments in Africa. Mining disputes therefore represent a significant portion of international arbitration involving African parties or projects in Africa.
