The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cues out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misconduct and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime to his strict lecture about how he must be skipped school that afternoon and what revision he must do. His head hurts and shows he that his collar is still ajar from the morning. Tom's half-brother, Ben, Tom's classmate, has come to despise Tom.

Tom goes out of the house into the streets of St. Petersburg. The streets were crowded and agitated, and Tom and the new arrival could not help engaging in an argument and eventually chased the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of marble. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and drives him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Hormone therapy (also called hormonal therapy, hormone treatment, or endocrine therapy) slows or stops the growth of hormone-sensitive tumors by blocking the body's ability to produce hormones or by interfering with effects of hormones on breast cancer cells.

Non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC) treatment options include surgery, chemotherapy, radiation therapy, targeted therapy, and immunotherapy. Laser therapy, photodynamic therapy, cryosurgery, and electrocautery may be used. Learn more about NSCLC in this expert-reviewed summary.

LISTEN NOW. Richard Marais (Cancer Research UK Manchester Institute, UK) finds that circulating cell-free DNA is a surrogate marker of tumour burden in patients with metastatic melanoma. He tells Helen Saul that a simple blood test could predict overall survival.

Plasma total cell-free DNA (cfDNA) is a surrogate biomarker for tumour burden and a prognostic biomarker for survival in metastatic...
