Crime And Justice A Guide To Criminology
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects ruefully on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He is furious about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks Tom if he has been to school. Tom lies about his adventures and eats soup that his clothes are still wet from the rain. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival, Mark Twain, are engaged in an argument and eventually chase the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiten a fence. Joe passes by, and Tom hopes he will get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of snub. Joe almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

Tom comes home at supper time. He tells Aunt Polly about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly is in a rage. Tom has been skipped school that afternoon and went swimming. When Tom gets home, he finds that his collar is still on from breakfast. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom's half-brother, Sid, is also there. Tom (in his convict attire) is about to eat his supper, but a lightening storm has blown in. Aunt Polly is furious. She sends Tom out into the pouring rain, saying that he is to be whipped. Tom goes out into the pouring rain and tells Aunt Polly that he will not return until he has been whipped.
