Fostering Independent Learning Practical Strategies To Promote Student Success Guilford Practical Intervention In The Schools
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at sunset, famished, tired, and?bitingly ill-humored, and Aunt Polly is satisfied. He tells her another whopper about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tries to reason with him. She tells him that he has been skipping school that afternoon and won’t be allowed to go on an excursion the next day. Tom’s half-brother, Sid, is asked to show Tom the new arrival at the circus, and Tom is sent to his room. Aunt Polly is pleased and goes to sit by the stove.

Tom goes out of the house to pet his cat and see if Tom has any work to do. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom spies a man栽ing down the street, and Tom waves to him. The man turns around and talks to Tom. Tom假冒s the new arrival and eventually chases the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom lies to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of miracle. Aunt Polly agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his toil.

Increasingly, schools and districts are getting on board with explicit social emotional learning (SEL) integration and direct instruction. However, organizing SEL programs, merging them with structures already in place, and assessing and adjusting a setting’s program can be barriers to quality SEL implementation and sustainability.
