Introduction To Immunohematology
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime, and his mother asks him how his adventures went. During supper, Aunt Polly rather miserably tells Tom that she has been skipping school that afternoon and worst of all, his collar is still on in the kitchen, even though she has washed it. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but Tom's half-brother, Joe, says he has seen the shirt himself and will dispose of it. Tom goes out of the house in a huff, but soon comes back. When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiterash the fence. Jim goes by, and Tom tries to get Jim to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of whistle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
